

I urge you to retain the current media ownership rules on June 2. The rule change that is contemplated would serve private commercial interests and not the public interest, and could severely limit the diversity of opinion covered in the broadcast media, as has already happened in radio. This is an area requiring checks and balances that only government oversight can provide -- we cannot rely on markets alone for this.